Your values. Your impact.

Your donor-advised fund at work●

A donor-advised fund (DAF) is more than a financial tool—it's a way to put your values into practice.

When you recommend DAF grants to USA for UNFPA, you deliver sexual and reproductive healthcare to women and girls in more than 150 countries.

One generous DAF grant can transform an entire community: a $15 Dignity Kit for every woman and girl struggling to manage their periods, a generation of mothers who survive childbirth and get to meet their children, a safe space reaching women and girls facing violence, and enough resources for UNFPA to respond the moment war, floods, and other disasters strike.

You've already set aside funds to do good—now is the moment to put them to work for women and girls.

What is a DAF?

A donor-advised fund (DAF) works like a charitable savings account for the causes you care about most. For USA for UNFPA supporters, it offers the flexibility to respond quickly when a crisis hits while planning for long-term goals and projects. Giving via a DAF is both easy and secure.

How your DAF delivers care

1

Contribute

Give cash, stocks, cryptocurrency, or other appreciated assets to your DAF and receive an immediate tax deduction.

2

Grow

Your contributions can be invested and grow tax-free, expanding what your giving can deliver.

3

Recommend

Recommend grants to USA for UNFPA and other qualified charities whenever and however you choose.

4

Deliver

Your grants reach women and girls with safe childbirth care, family planning, and support for survivors of violence.

Did you know... | Beyond one-time grants, your DAF can deliver lasting support through:

Scheduled grants:

Set up recurring monthly or annual grants for reliable, ongoing support—and let us know so we can share what your generosity makes possible.

Family giving:

Name children or grandchildren as advisors to pass your values on.

Beneficiary designations:

Name USA for UNFPA as a beneficiary of your DAF to create a lasting legacy for women and girls.

Crisis response:

Keep reserve funds in your DAF to respond quickly when humanitarian emergencies arise.

► How do I start a DAF?

DAFs are offered by national investment firms, community foundations, and mission-focused organizations. Many donors open one where they already have a brokerage account, which makes transferring cash or appreciated securities simple. Opening a fund usually takes a short application. Once it's established, you can add gifts over time, choose how funds are invested, and log in anytime to recommend grants. Your provider handles due diligence, issues grants, and sends one consolidated tax receipt each year. USA for UNFPA accepts grants from all DAF providers.

► What types of assets can I contribute to my DAF?

Depending on your provider, you can give cash, publicly traded securities, cryptocurrency, and—in some cases—real estate or privately held business interests. Giving appreciated assets held for more than a year can be a tax-smart way to increase your impact while limiting capital gains.

► Do I have the financial capacity to start a DAF?

Very likely. Many DAF providers have eliminated account minimums and lowered minimum grant amounts, so you can build your fund over time with contributions that fit your budget.

► How quickly should I recommend grants?

DAFs give you flexibility, but the greatest impact comes when funds are put to work. Women and girls can't wait: every 2 minutes, a woman dies from preventable causes during pregnancy or childbirth.

► Are contributions to my DAF tax-deductible?

Generally, yes. Contributions are typically eligible for a charitable deduction in the year they're made. Your DAF provider issues your tax receipt, and you can recommend grants to charities like USA for UNFPA over time. For details, consult your tax advisor.

► Can I make my giving part of my legacy?

Absolutely. You can name USA for UNFPA as the beneficiary of all or a percentage of your fund, or name loved ones as successor advisors to carry on your giving. If you include us, please let us know so we can thank you.

► Can I support both urgent needs and long-term care?

Yes. An unrestricted grant lets your support go where it's needed most—whether that's emergency response in a humanitarian crisis or long-term work like training midwives.
